

Name: Ng Ka Yan

Class: 3B (21)

Instructions:

1. Copy the following poem in the space provided.
2. Write in ballpoint pen.
3. Use cursive writing.

“Proclamation of Desperation” by Omar

I'm sitting in class, gazing into space
Contemplating on where I'd rather be
Counting each second till I leave this place
Is all this work really worth a degree
I go to the restroom just for a break
So much work, this is one gigantic load
There's only so much math that I can take
One more assignment and I will explode
Equations, word problems, can't you just see
How is  $a+b$  apart of my life
I think it's just irrelevant to me
I don't feel the need to be in this strife
I cannot wait until my freedom comes
I hope I don't become one of those bums

“Proclamation of Desperation” by Omar

I'm sitting in class, gazing into space

Contemplating on where I'd rather be
Counting each second till I leave this place

Is all this work really worth a degree
I go to the restroom just for a break
So much work, this is one gigantic load
There's only so much math that I can take

One more assignment and I will explode
Equations, word problems, can't you just see

How is  $a+b$  apart of my life
I think it's just irrelevant to me
I don't feel the need to be in this strife
I cannot wait until my freedom comes
I hope I don't become one of those bums