Today, I want to talk about the Hong Kong Adventure Corps.

I joined the Hong Kong Adventure Corps because i can make many new friends there.

We are doing a lot of physical training. For example, we will jog in the morning.

We also have a lot of marching exercises.

Before i joined this corps, I hope I could train myself and make a lot of friends in the camp. I also want to develop self confidence. Before I understand the Hong Kong Adventure Corps, I was a new recruit and I think the training is difficult. After I have passed out, I started to enjoy the training. I can make a lot of new friends and learn more new things since I have passed out.

That's why I would like to recommend this activity to you.
