Hong Kong People - The Lucky Ones

Good morning Principal, Vice Principals, teachers and fellow schoolmates.

The Court has jailed Lam Shiu-kum, former dean of Faculty of Medicine from HKU, 25 months for pocketing donations intended for the institute and swindling patients of medical fees at a public hospital.

I think it was a shame on this doctor for his misconduct as he was such an honourable person being the dean of the Faculty of Medicine. A dean has a great responsibility to set a good example for students to follow. Although he seems to be very successful in his profession, he has failed to be a good teacher and dean.

From the news, we learn that greed will destroy one's life. But sometimes ambition can motivate us to do better, for example, workers will work harder as they want to be promoted; students will work harder as they want to get a better job in the future. People who are lazy and greedy will choose the wrong way, like gambling, stealing, using all kinds of methods to get the things they want. However, there is no free lunch in this society.

From this piece of news, I hope all of you can learn that Hong Kong people should always feel satisfied as we are already the lucky ones. We should treasure what we have now and help the unlucky ones. Also, we should always bear in mind that helpless people are waiting for helping hands.

I hope all of you can strive your best for a promising future, but at the same time care for the needy.
