

The National Day of China

Good morning, Principal, Vice-Principals, teachers and fellow schoolmates.

Before I begin my sharing, I would like to ask you a question. Do you know what is the most important event this week? It is the National Day of China on the 1st of October. This year, it is a bit different from the previous ones because it is the 60th anniversary of the National Day of China. Therefore, a lot of large scale celebrations have been held on or before the National Day, including parades and firework shows.

As everyone knows, China is growing with her thriving economy. However, I believe that only a small portion of Chinese people have really lifted their living standard while most of them are still living in poverty. Therefore, China has to overcome the problems of misallocation of funds and enhance human rights before she can really be respected by the rest of the world.

That's the end of my sharing. Thank you.
