

The Frog and the Princess

Good morning Principal, Vice Principals, teachers and fellow schoolmates.

Today, I want to share with you a new version of the story 'The Frog and the Princess'. Once upon a time in Germany, there was a beautiful princess. She was kind and helpful, so everyone liked her and her father, the king, loved her most.

One day, the princess walked around the garden alone. There was a pool and a lot of colourful fish swimming in it. Suddenly, she saw a green frog standing in front of her. The frog shouted, 'Help me! Please help me!' The princess was very surprised and asked, 'Why can you talk?' The frog said, 'I can talk because I was a prince. But one day a witch came and turned me into a frog and put me in this pool.' The princess asked, 'But how can I help you?' The frog said, 'If you say "quack" one hundred times, I will become prince again.'

The kind princess helped the frog, but she was so careless that she said "quack" one hundred and one times. Then, the frog disappeared and the princess became a frog. The king was sad and unhappy because no one could find his daughter. This is the end of my sharing. Thank you.
