

No Pains, No Gains

Good morning, Principal, Vice-principals, teachers and fellow schoolmates.

Today I would like to share with all of you the topic "No Pains, No Gains". The well-known proverb "No Pains, No Gains" always reminds us that behind every success, there is often much effort and diligence. The proverb suggests that if you want to achieve a goal, you cannot do it through idleness, or expect success will come to your door out of the blue. Actually, if you want to succeed, you have to take a lot of determination in every step.

Studying English proves the proverb right. When you want to learn English well, what should you do then? How can you learn a language so different from your own? And how can you speak and write this language just like a native speaker? The very first step to answer all these questions is to overcome our embarrassment at making mistakes as well as work hard to master the grammar and vocabulary. Of course, all these will take a long time. However, I believe that if you pay the effort, you can do it well. In fact, the pain of our efforts will turn into the gain of knowing a new language which you can master it well. Thank you.
