

The Pleasure of Helping Others

Good morning, Principal, Vice-principals, teachers and fellow schoolmates.

Today I would like to share with you the pleasure of helping others. Everybody needs help sometimes. In fact, when we are in need, we turn to others for help. It is because we are not living alone. We live cooperatively with each other. We need friends all the times. However, we will feel frustrated if we are rejected by others such as our friends when we need help. In this way, we should always be willing to help others. No matter how small our help may be, it could mean a lot to others.

I once have a very valuable experience in helping others. This is also a very rewarding one to me which affects my view about life. I helped an old lady pick up her things which she had accidentally dropped on the street while walking. She thanked me and I was really delighted and touched by her display of gratitude.

Now I realize that if we were all willing to help each other, our society would be a warmer and more peaceful place to live in. So, dear Ng Wah boys, please remember always give help to the one who needs your help at any time. Helping others is a blessing. Thank you.
