Planning For My Future

Everyone can live only once so I hope that I can have a meaningful life. That means I want to be happy and to make others happy too. First, I need to keep myself healthy because good health is the key to success. If I am healthy, I can study well and work hard.

Second, I need to study hard so that I can go to university where I can gain more knowledge to prepare myself for my future career.

My ambition is to be a town planner so that I can help to build a beautiful city with a good environment. This is because I think the town planners in Hong Kong are not good enough. There are too many tall buildings.

Finally, I hope that I can improve the environment and increase the quality of life of people.
