

Ng Wah Catholic Secondary School
2016 – 2017
English Department
English Writing Competition

S4 Champion

Lau Sze Yin (S4B)

Planning For My Future

A significant number of people want to have wonderful lives in the future so they are planning for their future now. I have been planning for my future over the past two years. First and foremost, I would like my future to be healthy so I am already cultivating good eating habits. I have three meals a day and try to eat a balanced diet.

What is more, I hope that I can have three experiences of love and can get a lot of experience from them. Hence, after dating three times, I will be able to find a wonderful and beautiful girlfriend; and I will marry her when I am 27 years old. I hope that we can be blessed until the end of the world.

After getting married, I plan to work overseas in order to gain knowledge and to broaden my horizons. There are so many cultures in the world and vast knowledge to be gained from visiting different places, so I will go out and gain broad experience in different places around the world.

In the future, I want to be a CEO at fashion design company, especially at a company whose clothing range I like very much, such as AAPE or Fingercoxx. I will design a lot of special and perfect clothes for everyone. Although fashion design is a difficult profession to get into, I will be very hardworking and I am determined to become successful. As the English saying goes, "Rome was not built in a day"; indeed nothing comes easily, but my ambition is to become rich one day and I strongly believe that I will, because I am a high achiever. If, in my future career, I encounter difficulties, I will use different ways to solve the problems.

I dream that I will have two sons in the future who will be smart and strong. I will hire different private tutors to teach them a lot of knowledge so that they will become not only very successful children but successful adults, too.

Last but not least, although I can plan for my future myself, I will need to work hard. Hence, I would like to learn lots of things and get different achievements and experiences from life in order to become successful.